

CONNECTING MOBILE DEVICES TO A PC WITH WINDOWS 10

To connect mobile devices with Windows 10, you will need to install Windows Mobile Device Center.

Microsoft has indeed stopped supporting some drivers (owned by Microsoft itself) after the switch from Windows 7 to Windows 10.

The application is available at the following link:

N.B. The search for the Windows Mobile Device Center will then have to be made in the language in which the pc is configured.
